Metabolism Booster

March 5, 2014, written by peggy

Do you ever feel like you are putting everything into your workouts but not seeing the results? I know, it has happened to me too! UGH! How frustrating.....wake up, workout, repeat...over and over!

It happens to the best of us, not that I am saying I'm one of the 'best of us' or anything! But, when we get 'stuck in a rut' doing the same routines day in and day out our bodies can sort of stop reacting. Think of how you get efficient at certain tasks, making a recipe over and over again for example. You get better at it, more efficient and it slowly requires less thought and effort. Well, your body does that too....geez, we are so smart and we don't even know it! Too smart for our own good, actually.

Here's another angle on the same phenomenon: Your body is like a chameleon (love that visual!). You've adapted to the workouts you have been doing week in and week out. You need a change of scenery...a bit of a different color gradient.

Don't get me wrong, sometimes the same old, comfortable workout routines are great, especially if you simply love how they feel and they fit well into your routine. But, if you need a bump or boost to get to the next level, if you want a little stimulation or more fitness sensation---you gotta switch it up!

So, if you're thinking, 'Gee, this workout is cozy, comfy' and you can go on autopilot during the second set of lunges, you might be missing some metabolic boosting or muscle stimulation. You might be stuck in a RUT. And, you're not alone.

It's time to 'shake-it-up'! It's good to get out of your routine and do something different. It just may spark your metabolism, stimulate your muscles and even inspire your MIND! Try this workout....let me know what you think.

Warm-Up

Perform 5 minutes of a cardiovascular exercise of your choice, but make the last minute really count by increasing your speed. Some examples are: treadmill, elliptical, bicycle, walking, jogging. Just get that body moving to generate some heat. Be sure to click on the thumbnails to enlarge the pictures.

Exercise	Description	Sets	Reps	Tempo
Overhead triceps extension with band	Anchor band above head height, face away from anchor. With handles behind head, stretch band out in front of head, keeping elbows high	2	12	pull out for 2 count, return to start for 3 count
Bicep curl 1 leg balance	Stand holding dumbbells. Raise 1 leg and balance. Raise db in bicep curl	2	12	Raise weights for 2 count, lower 4 count
Cardio	This time give it all you've got! You get to stretch when you're done!	3	minutes

Cool Down

- Lay on your back with your legs straight on floor. Raise one leg straight up. I sometimes wrap a band or yoga strap around the bottom of my foot so I can add a little extra stretch. Repeat on other leg.
- Lay on right side. Bend left leg and grab your left foot in your left hand. Breathe and hold on for 20 sec. Repeat on other side.

Lay on your right side. Bring your left leg out in front of you. Keep it straight. Very slowly, rotate your left shoulder to the floor. Your arms should be straight out to your sides and palms facing up. Make sure your head is on the floor. This will allow for a great shoulder and chest stretch. But, you will also begin to feel it move down your spine into your low back, glutes and down your hamstring. Try to raise your left foot but keep it on the floor. Now, hang out here and breathe.

Tip to Progress

When you are ready, add another minute to your cardio bursts. Then think about adding another set.
